Welcome to Go-Gecko Camping Trailers

Our roller coaster adventure started three years ago when my wife, two young boys and I emigrated to Australia. Having been in the camping and caravanning manufacturing business for many years, I secured a place with a leading Australian trailer fabricator.

We soon realised that every Australian family we met spent the majority of their time outdoors and many had a camping trailer. This allowed them the freedom to just get up and go.

As the concept was new to us, we wanted to learn a little more about camping trailers and this is what they told us about their specific benefits:

- simple, easy and fast to erect
- affordable
- second to none for off road use
- everything you need in one small trailer package
- easy to manoeuvre because of the longer draw bar

We loved our Aussie adventure but needed to return to the UK for family reasons. We wanted to bring some of the Australian lifestyle back with us and this is how the Go-Gecko concept was conceived.

Go-Gecko is a small, family run business, dedicated to quality and personal service. Our ability to customise our products to your own requirements provides a unique opportunity to cover all your needs.

Camping trailers are as versatile as a caravan without the expense and inflexibility. Everything you need is in your trailer, just hook it up to your car, pack a bag and away you go.

We believe the UK camping experience needs a fresh new concept to add a little excitement and affordability to family holidays.

Look at some of the benefits, camping trailers can bring to camping:

Can't fit the kids in the car with all the camping equipment?

Camping trailers take away the pain and the stress of trying to get all of your camping equipment into your family car - everything you need is stored in one tidy package.

No more looking for the campsite tap!

Your 70 litre water tank is stored under your trailer. While you're putting your tent up, put the kettle on, on your standard in-built stainless steel kitchen unit with running water from your own tap and make yourself a brew.

Does the thought of erecting a tent fill you with dread?

Every time you go camping with a camping trailer, the set up time gets quicker. It's so easy! The first time will only take you half an hour. The more you use it, the quicker it gets. Will you beat the whistle of the kettle?

Affordability comes with the benefits of being able to tow your trailer with a smaller vehicle; there are fewer worries about high winds when travelling to your destination and improved fuel economy due to the lighter weight.
